Cider.

[Written for the World, by Professor H. Dussance, Chemist, New Lebanon, N. Y.]

Cider is the fermented juice of the apple, and is a beverage which was known to the ancients. The attention of the cider farmer should be first directed to the culture of the apple-tree. We shall not make any remarks on this subject. The best variety of apples to choose is that which yields a juice rich in sugar and contains no undue amount of acid, and which, after the period of active fermentation is passed, furnishes a liquor which clarifies itself and keeps well. The quality of the juice may generally be determined from its specific gravity. The heaviest and clearest is the best. The following table may here be inserted for the advantage of cider-makers:

Varieties of apples.	Sp. gr.
Queen apple	1.094
English rennette	1.080
Red rennette	1.072
Musk rennette	1.069
Fouillette raye	1.064
Orange apple	1.063
Rennette of caux	1.060

Cider is generally classified into bitter, sweet and sour. The first is the best; the richest in sugar, ferments the most easily, clarifies spontaneously, and keeps the best after the fermentation. The juice of sweet apples ferments tumultuously, clears with difficulty, and does not keep well. The juice of sour apples contains little sugar and more acid than the other two, and produces not only the weakest but the worst cider. Sour and rough tasted apples are usually preferred by farmers for making cider; but this cider can never equal in quality that prepared at a low temperature from fruit abounding in sugar.

The principal operations to make cider consist in—1. The collection of the fruit; 2. The fermentation of the juice; 4. The storing. 5. The management of the fermented liquors.

1. The fruit must be perfectly ripe before collecting it, and the apples, after being gathered, should be left from fourteen to fifteen days in a barn to mature, during which time a portion of the mucilage is decomposed into carbonic acid and alcohol. Spoiled apples must be separated; they impart a bad flavor to the cider, and prevent its clarification. Unripe apples ought to be also avoided; they do not contain enough sugar to undergo the vinous fermentation and contribute to render the liquor acid and watery.

2. In this operation the apples are crushed and reduced into pulp, and the common practice is to sprinkle that pulp with one-sixth or one-fourth of its weight of water, and then to allow it to remain in tubs for fourteen hours. This plan is not good; it allows a portion of the newly-formed alcohol to evaporate, and the skins and pips impart a bad flavor to the cider. The pulp is then submitted gradually to powerful pressure in the cider-press. The first running liquor is the best, and should be kept separate.

3. The expressed juice is put into clean casks, with large bung-holes, and exposed to the air in the shade, with flat tubs under to receive the waste. The cask must be kept always full, in order that the yeast, as it forms, may froth over and be carried off from the surface of the liquor. After two or three days for weak cider and eight or ten days for strong cider, the liquor is racked off in clean casks previously sulphuretted with a cooper's match. The casks are then placed in a cellar where a low and regular temperature can be insured.

The press pulp is generally sprinkled with one-eighth or one-half its weight of water, and pressed again. The resulting liquor, when fermented, forms a weak kind of cider, agreeable to drink in eating. The refuse pulp is used for feeding pigs and cattle.

4. The storing and management of cider are matters of vast importance to the farmer, dealer and bottler. We shall speak of them on this head in a special article on the brewing.

The excellence of cider depends much upon the temperature at which the fermentation is conducted, a point utterly overlooked by the manufacturers. Instead of the apple juice, as soon as it is expressed from the fruit, being placed in a cool situation, where the temperature should not exceed 50 or 52 degrees F., it is frequently left to the full heat of autumn. In this way much of the alcohol is transformed into acetic acid by absorption of the oxygen of the air, and the cider acquires that peculiar acidity known by the name of roughness.

The fermentation being conducted at a low temperature, nearly the whole of the sugar is converted into alcohol, which remains in the liquor instead of undergoing the process of acetification. The acetous fermentation by which alcohol is converted into acetic acid proceeds rapidly at a temperature of 90 degrees; and at a lower temperature it becomes slower until 46 or 50 degrees, where no such change takes place. It is, then, evident that the lower the temperature the less of alcohol will be converted into acetic acid, the quality of the cider is improved, and it preserves it from future change.

These few remarks, we think, are sufficient to demonstrate to farmers the necessity of care in the preparation of cider, and show them that its manufacture is not based upon hazard or chance, but upon chemical principles.

We give here now two receipts—one to improve the flavor of sweet cider, and the other to make champagne cider:

To improve the flavor of weak cider, add to each hogshead one and a half gallon of brandy or rum, or, better cider brandy; two ounces powdered catechu, dissolved in water; ten pounds of sugar or honey; four ounces of mustard seed, and two ounces each of bitter almonds and cloves. This to be well mixed, and the whole occasionally stirred for a fortnight; leave to rest four or five months, it will be then perfectly fine—if not, fine it with one pint of isinglass finings or a dozen whites of eggs; allow to rest a fortnight. If the cider is preferred pale, omit the catechu, and instead of isinglass use skim milk. To make champagne cider, take one hogshead of good pale vinous cider, three gallons of proof spirit, fourteen pounds of sugar or honey; mix well, and let it remain one month; then add three pints of orange-flower water, and in a few days fine down with half a gallon of skimmed milk. This is very pale.

EFFECT OF LEAD ON WATER.—The following remarks, by the Scientific American, upon the effects of lead upon water, are worth the attention of readers. Almost all our drinking water is drawn through lead pipes, and, if it be injurious under certain circumstances, the fact ought to be known, especially as the remedy is easy, by drawing off, without use, the water which was all night in the pipes:

"By taking a strip of clean lead, and placing it in a tumbler of pure water (say rain or soft water), in less than an hour, by dropping in the tumbler a little sulphide of ammonium, a black precipitate will be thrown down, consisting of the sulphide of lead—e. g., lead must have been dissolved and held in solution in the water; and, as the salt of lead happens to be classed among some of the most dangerous poisons, we are necessarily led to the conclusion that lead pipes, conveying water, if the latter is pure, must be somewhat dangerous. Water standing in a lead pipe for some hours decomposes the metal, and, when it is run off, the poison is carried with it. Water drawn in the morning through a lead pipe should never be used for domestic purposes, such as cooking or drinking, and servants in cities should be instructed respecting this particular subject, because they are usually ignorant of the nature of lead and the effects of water upon it. Several metals taken in food or drink accumulate slowly in the human system and ultimately produce disease; but it approaches so stealthily that the danger is not usually apprehended. Some of the salts of lead are not poisonous, and the sulphide is of this class. The interior of lead pipes may be converted into an insoluble sulphide of lead by subjecting them for some time to the action of a hot sulphate of soda in solution, according to the recent discovery of Dr. Schwarz, of Breslau. Those who prepare lead pipes for conveying water for domestic purposes, should test the alleged discovery, as it is of the utmost importance that all the safeguards to health should be enforced and multiplied.

DROWNED.—A German named Herman was found drowned in the canal basin at Hawley, Pa., on Saturday last.

Important News from Gen. Grant.

IMMENSE CAPTURE OF COTTON.

Burnside Still Holding Knoxville.

Important News Hourly Expected.

The Momentous Period of the Rebellion.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.

Conversation of the President.

The President, yesterday, in course of conversation, remarked that the next two weeks would be the most momentous period of the rebellion.

Gen. Butler at Fort Monroe.

Gen. Butler, in his first walk at Fort Monroe, was astonished at meeting a rebel officer looking at the parade of our troops. It was General Fitzhugh Lee. Being told that he enjoyed the liberty of Old Point, General Butler sharply expressed his disapproval of such reprehensible courtesy. Next day Lee made a voyage to Fort Lafayette.

Cotton Captured.

An officer on Gen. Banks' staff, writing to a friend at Washington, says a large quantity of cotton was captured near Brownsville, and expeditions had been sent up the river to get all they could find. The cotton, which will be thrown into the market by the occupation of Texas, will amount to 250,000 bales. The amount stored on the Rio Grande line is immense. There is little doubt but what the latest rumor, relating to the rebel scheme for a raid on Rouse's Point, Burlington, &c., is a bugaboo. H.

FROM CINCINNATI.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.

Rebels Repulsed at Knoxville.

Information of heavy fighting at Knoxville, on the 19th and 20th, has been received. The enemy 36,000 strong, had been successfully resisted, and had withdrawn from the south side of the town, which was his most favorable point of attack.

Gen. Burnside notified the citizens he should certainly hold the place.

Burnside to be Reinforced.

He was acting in conjunction with General Grant, whose reinforcements are making forced marches to relieve the beleagured place.

The rebel loss has been heavy. Our Gen. Sanders is dead. Col. Woolford is wounded. Dispatches from below report the capture of a train of ten wagons, with cavalry clothing, between Little Rock and Benton. Gen. Steele sent word to Marmaduke that he was welcome to the clothing, but if he caught any of his soldiers wearing it he would hang them.

Faulkner and his guerrillas were on Thursday last chased to Oberon river. They tried to cross, when the Federals fired upon them, killing eleven, capturing fifty-three, a wagon loaded with small arms and thirty-three horses.

Destructive Fire.

The main building of Miles Greenwood's foundry took fire on Saturday night in the third story, in the pattern rooms. The fire was confined to that building. Loss over one hundred thousand dollars. No Government machinery or property injured.

Arrival of Coal Boats.

A considerable number of tow-boats, with coal from Pittsburgh, arrived yesterday and this morning.

Gen. Foster in the City.

General Foster was in the city yesterday, en route for Knoxville. C.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

From the Army of the Potomac.

PHILADELPHIA, November 23.—A dispatch dated at Culpepper on Sunday morning, states that the rain of Saturday will not interfere with immediate active operations. All the sick and wounded are being forwarded to Washington, and everything betokens forward and effective movements on the part of General Meade.

Governor Curtin.

Governor Curtin is in town. He is expected to make one or two visits to public places to-day.

Order from the War Department.

The War Department has issued a general order, allowing all soldiers who will re-enlist, whether singly, in squads, regiments or brigades, permission to go home on thirty days' leave of absence. H.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.

From Meade's Army.

Meade has crossed the Rapidan and taken possession of the enemy's earthworks. Stirring news may be expected. J.

NEW YORK, November 23.—A special to the Times says:—An officer on Gen. Banks' staff, writing to a friend here, says that large quantities of cotton were captured near Brownsville, and that an expedition had been sent up the river to get all they could find.

The Union men of Brownsville hailed with delight our capture of the place, and were forming themselves into defensive organizations. They were rendering valuable services to our forces by acting as scouts.

The cotton which will be thrown into market by our occupation of Texas will reach 250,000 bales. The amount stored on the line of the Rio Grande is immense.

The day of General Schofield's hesitation is past; his idea of recruiting from amongst the slaves in the same manner as from amongst the whites wont work.

The President, yesterday, in the course of conversation, remarked that the next two weeks would be the most momentous period of the rebellion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Chattanooga correspondent of the World, dated 15th, says: Will Bragg move upon Burnside with a portion of his forcess, leaving the remainder to resist an advance on the part of the Federals? Has he sufficiently fortified his position in front of Chattanooga to allow him to do this? That he might not have done this had not the situation changed within the last twenty-four hours is possible, but as Hooker's advance from Bridgeport settled the supply question, so another movement has settled the possibility of a flank movement in East Tennessee. What it is I am not at liberty to state, but it will not be shrouded in mystery long.

If, as is alleged by some refugees and deserters, a portion of Bragg's forces had already started on their mission against Burnside, they must be immediately recalled, or the rebel communication will be severed, and his whole army threatened from the rear. Whatever movements may occur to compel Bragg to change his base, no general advance will take place till Chattanooga can be made a base of supplies.

To advance, even with the certainty of driving Bragg to Atlanta before that time, will be madness. That place can only be converted into such a base after the railroad is completed between Bridgeport and Chattanooga. Events and maneuvers may bring on a battle, but I doubt it, unless the rebels concentrate all their armies and make a desperate effort to regain East Tennessee, but certain it is that they cannot take the offensive now.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—Maj. Gen. Foster arrived and will leave for Knoxville to-day.

Official advices from East Tennessee, up to 11 o'clock yesterday morning, are encouraging. At that time firing at Knoxville was heard by our extreme outposts from Cumberland Gap.

Adjutant Stanley, of the 12th Kentucky Cavalry, arrived from Cumberland Gap yesterday. He brings hopeful news of the situation. Gen. Burnside was still holding out, and notified the citizens he would certainly hold Knoxville.

The rebel force opposing him is estimated at thirty-six thousand. Knoxville is not closely invested. The enemy have withdrawn from the south side of the river, and we forage there. The artillery firing on the 19th and 20th was very severe. The enemy sustained a heavy loss. Brig.-Gen. Sanders, wounded at Campbell's station a few days ago, has since died. Col. Wolford is slightly wounded.

The Commercial says:—The withdrawal of the enemy from the south side of Knoxville, is significant of a decisive repulse. Burnside is holding Knoxville under instructions from Grant, and it is now to be supposed, therefore, that the forces under Thomas, Hooker and Sherman are waiting their time during the momentous days. We are in hourly expectation of receiving intelligence of a most important character.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Specials to the World, from Washington, dated 22d, say: Advices from the front to-night, other than those of your special correspondent, state that the weather has cleared up and the roads not much damaged by the late rains.

In view of the important results now daily anticipated, the enemy is certainly in force on the south bank of the Rappahannock.

The Tribune's Washington special says the Navy Department has advices from the Vanderbilt down to the second or third week of October. The Vanderbilt left Cape Good Hope early in the month, and when two days out fell in with a Dutch vessel in a disabled condition. To save the lives of forty persons on board, the Vanderbilt took the vessel in tow and returned with her to the Cape, thus losing four days.

At the last accounts the Vanderbilt was at the Island of Mauritas, and the Alabama in the Bay of Bengal. The Captain of the Vanderbilt is believed to be well informed with regard to the rebel pirate's course.

The rumor current here to-night that General Grant's forces have advanced on Bragg, and were now in Atlanta, Ga., with Bragg in full retreat, has not a shadow of foundation.

STIRRING NEWS.

The telegrams from the East and West this morning indicate active movements in the armies. General MEADE has crossed the Rapidan and taken possession of the enemy's earthworks. General THOMAS' army moved on Saturday. The rebels have been repulsed at Knoxville, and had withdrawn from the south side of the town.

SENATOR COWAN, of this State, has purchased a mansion on Capitol Hill, Washington, and it is understood that he intends to practice in the Supreme Court.

HUNG HIMSELF.—Asa Hendricks, of Canaan, Wayne county, hung himself the other day, because his son had been drafted and failed to get exempted.

OVER one hundred persons are said to have had their pockets picked at Gettysburg on Thursday. Next day a half peck of empty pocket books was found near Hanover Junction.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—Last Friday, a little daughter of Winso Fosters, an engineer on the Carbonale Railroad, was burned to death by her clothes taking fire from a burning stump in a garden.

AN ANCIENT LAWSUIT.—The supreme tribunal of Madrid has just given final judgment in a suit which had been under litigation two hundred and forty years, and which involved the succession to the inheritance of Francis Pizarro, the famous invader and conqueror of Peru in 1532.

OVER-REACHING.—To prevent horses over-reaching in traveling, a writer in the Rural New Yorker says, let the blacksmith make the "heel corks of the fore shoes high and the toe corks low; and the toe corks of the hind shoes high and the heel corks low." An infallible remedy.

DEATH OF A MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATURE.—We regret to learn that Michael Walsh, member of the last House of Representatives, and again elected for the coming session, from Luzerne county, was accidentally killed on the railroad on Friday. We have not heard the particulars.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

PRIVATE TELEGRAPH.—The use of the magnetic telegraph is now being introduced into Montreal, for private convenience, as it has been for public advantage. A firm in that city, largely engaged in wholesale drugs, have established a line between their store in the city and their mills in the country.

THE TURNIP TASTE IN MILK can be effectually and easily cured. This has been fully proved the present season. We are indebted to a correspondent in The Country Gentleman for the information, which has already been worth more to us than the cost of this paper a whole year. It not only cures the evil in milk, but also in the butter. No taste of turnips can be detected. And this is the remedy: Pour a pint of boiling water upon an ounce of niter (nitrate of potassa—common saltpeter), and when thoroughly dissolved and cool, put it in a bottle ready for daily use, where it will keep cool. When you take the pail to milk, pour a tablespoonful of this solution into it, which is enough for an ordinary sized pailful of milk, and it does the work effectually. It is said that it also helps to sink the bad flavor given to milk by other food which cows eat. It is worth knowing, and should be remembered.

THE TRADE STRIKES.—The following is a list of the trades now on a strike in New York city, and of the sums they now receive and the increase they ask:

MORE RUMORS AND MOVEMENTS.

The rumors to-day seem to indicate that Gen. MEADE has crossed the Rapidan and commenced a campaign only to end, as we hope, with the capture of Richmond. Unless the rumors are entirely unfounded, it seems that perhaps Lee himself—at least considerable reinforcements from his army, have been sent to the South-west. If this is not so, then a bloody battle may be fought any day between MEADE and LEE. If it is, then Richmond will shortly fall.

In Tennessee, also, we have rumors of important movements—on the part of the rebels, an attempt to cut off BURNSIDE, and on Gen. GRANT's part, a movement to cut off BRAGG's army. If it be indeed true that one-third of BRAGG's troops are sent against BURNSIDE, then we think the rest will have to retreat or be whipped by GRANT.

The news, too, from Charleston is indicative of prompt action. These combined rumors serve to confirm the reported declaration by the President, that the next two weeks would be the most momentous of the war. We hope our officers and soldiers are ready for the dreadful conflict, and we pray God to speed the right.

THE RAILROAD INTERESTS OF PITTSBURGH.

The crash in money matters, of 1857, broke down, for the time being, several railroad enterprises, in which our city was largely interested. The existence of the war has heretofore so largely occupied public attention that our citizens have not been able to give much attention to the several railroad projects. During the past season a good deal of work has been done on the old Steubenville Road, under the auspices of a new company. The bridge piers have been almost built, and work all along the route on the heavier sections of the road. We hope another year may complete this important road. The Chartiers Valley, a branch of this one, will certainly at no distant day be built. The local coal trade along these two roads ought to ensure their completion—independent of their connections with other railroads.

Mr. Latrobe's letter says that arrangements can now be made for the extension of the Connellsville road to Cumberland. If this be so, there should be no hesitation about acceding to any reasonable terms on the subject. An average generation of life has passed since this connection was projected. If any means within the power of that Company can be secured to complete this original design let them be used at once, and the extension of this road be completed with the Baltimore and Ohio. If it be possible to secure an eastern terminus direct to Washington city, through Pennsylvania and Maryland, very well. We hope it may be secured; but let it not delay the realization of the old project, the connection of Pittsburgh and Cumberland. The other should be pushed on its own merits.

The extension of the Allegheny Valley to the oil region is an even more pressing necessity than any other just now. A branch of the wide gauge New York road has reached Franklin. If the Allegheny Valley was extended to meet this road, it would give us a connection with the oil region, and also an independent line to New York. In fact, we think all the interests in the oil region might be merged in the same road. The narrow gauge track to connect with the Allegheny Valley might also lay down a third rail so as to accommodate the broad gauge cars on the same track. This arrangement might be extended on the Allegheny Valley road, and thus give a New York connection with Pittsburgh of the six-foot gauge.

THE COMMON PEOPLE OF GREAT BRITAIN.

We have just finished reading the address of HENRY WARD BEECHER, delivered at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, giving his impressions of the sentiments of the British public on the rebellion question in this country. Mr. B. dissects at great length the elements which go to make up the public sentiment of the British empire. Mr. B. found the commercial classes, the aristocracy, and very largely even of what has been heretofore called the anti-slavery sentiment of that country, enlisted in behalf of the rebels and against the Union. The great element which has kept that country from positively interfering in favor of the rebels, has been that the entire mass of the great laboring middle class sympathize thoroughly with the North. The Queen and the royal family, a large number of prominent individuals in Church and State, quite a number of the liberal and progressive journals, favor our side; but, after all, the controlling force which has restrained the governing class is the fear of the great non-voting mass of that empire. We have no doubt, after reading his analysis, that he is right.

"Therefore it is, that when the great under class of England is determined in one direction, they always carry their point; first or last, the upper classes have to give way. Men whose fortunes are made—men whose only thought of the future is to carry the rich freights of the present along into their future—that class are generally against us. Men who have no fortunes—men having very little in the present to care for, who are struggling for better fortunes for themselves and children—that class are on our side. They are in our favor, but they are a class who have not much voice—have very little expression, and they are therefore little heard. Their report is not wafted across, but their influence is felt on the other side of the sea. It seems to me that it is peculiarly fitting that we, who believe in the common people, should find ourselvs opposed by the titled and s rong, but should find our allies and fast friends in the emergency have been the common people of Great Britain. [Applause.] The result has been that the Government has more and more modified its policy until it now came to that condition in which, I believe, we may in the main feel satisfied, England has determined that ships of war shall not be sent out from her ports to harass our commerce and drive it from the sea. The language of Lord John Russell, in his statement of the policy of the British Government in the future, has met with some few dissentient voices, but it has met with the approbation of the great mass of the British people, and the Government will unquestionably maintain for the future that policy which they now stand upon.

"I hold in my hand a letter from Richard Cobden. [Tremendous applause.] He says: 'You will carry back an intimate acquaintance with a state of feeling in this country among what, for a better name, I call the ruling class. Their sympathy is undoubtedly strongly for the South, with the instinctive satisfaction at the prospect of the disruption of the great Republic. It is natural enough. But do not forget that we have in this case, for the first time in our history, taken sides for a foreign government against its rebellious citizens. [Tremendous applause.] In every other instance whether in the case of the Poles, Italians, Hungarians and Corsicans, Greeks or South Americans, the popular sympathy of this country has always leaped to the side of the insurgents the moment the rebellion has broken out. In the present case our masses have an instinctive satisfaction that their cause is bound up in the prosperity of the States—the United States. It is true that they have not a particle of power in the direct form of a vote, but when millions in this country are led by the religious middle class they can go and prevent the governing class from pursuing a policy hostile to their sympathies.' [Tremendous applause.]

Messrs. COBDEN and BEECHER are undoubtedly right, and to the common people of our mother land are we indebted for all the kindly sympathies which unites in bands of steel the masses of the two continents.

SOLDIERS and OFFICERS in the Army, being exposed to sudden changes, should always be supplied with "Brown's Bronchial Troches," as they give prompt relief in a Cold, Cough, or an Irritated Throat.

THE age of a young lady is now expressed according to the present style of skirts, by saying that eighteen springs have passed over her head.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Discursory a la Military—New Railroad Arrangements—A Newspaper Publisher in Trouble—A Will Case—Personal.

Special Correspondence of the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22, 1863.

This day has passed away with the tranquility and loveliness of a beautiful dream. The streets have been thronged with Sunday-afternoon promenaders, but the bulletin boards and hotel lobbies have been desolate, for there has not been a telegram, other than that of a domestic character, over the wires to-day, so far as any demonstration up to eight this evening goes to show.

I have seen a letter from Meade's headquarters, dated yesterday, the 21st, and the information by it is not of a character to indicate anything stirring, though the writer says that our army is in splendid condition and entirely ready when wanted. The enemy is quiet as a lamb in front, except through his guerrilla operations, which have become so annoying that a general order has just been issued to shoot them immediately after capture.

To-morrow the new arrangement goes into operation on the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads from Washington East, and of course West. Trains will be run directly through to New York without change of cars, particularly a train leaving Washington City at 8:30 p. m. One may go to sleep at the Capital and wake up at Jersey City. There will be two trains from Washington in the evening, one at five and the other at 8:30 p. m. The one at five o'clock will be most advantageous for those who have much to do with Washington correspondence. This train formerly left there at half-past six, and arrived here at from half-past twelve to one—when it was on time. The change is one of no profit to the telegraph company between here and Washington, for the newspaper correspondents can get off the news of the day for the Philadelphia papers by mail, instead of telegraphing anything except the evening news.

William Y. Leader, of this city, who, like many others before him, thought he could publish a newspaper, has just been charged by a lady here, with improperly obtaining the sum of nine hundred dollars from her. At her husband's decease, he left her this amount, which was invested in a building association. The dividends not being so heavy as she desired, it is said that Mr. Leader accepted the sum, and agreed to pay her ten per cent., and gave a judgment bond in security. The publisher not meeting his payments according to agreement, the lady has caused him to appear before a Magistrate. Mr. Leader is the publisher of a weekly paper, called the National Guard, which, I judge, has not been, pecuniarily, a success. If I mistake not, the gentleman was a candidate for the Legislature, in the late election.

Among the interesting cases recently before the Court of Common Pleas was one, which has just been decided, concerning a contested will. One Adam Mintzer, who died some time ago, by his will left his entire estate to his wife; the amount of his property was $25,000. The will was disputed by Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Thompson, who are children of Mr. Mintzer by a former wife. They contended that their stepmother exercised an absolute and undue control over their father, which led to his cutting them off with five dollars, and that he was insane upon family subjects. The case thus presented has attracted much attention, and has been before the Court for several days past. A verdict was given by the jury in favor of the daughters, setting aside the widow's claims. The evidence in the case was confusing and contradictory. The daughters alleged that their stepmother introduced two nieces into their father's house, expelling themselves; while the defendant retorted that their own conduct led to their expulsion. Mrs. Mintzer had no children.

Dendy Sharwood, formerly connected with the city passenger railway business here, and who went to the war as captain in the One Hundred-and-Eighteenth Pennsylvania volunteers, has just died of the typhoid fever. He was very well known in a general public way among us, and in his death will be missed by many who held him in high estimation.

While on this topic I may mention, also, that Miss Anna Wharton, a daughter of the formerly well-known William Wharton, was interred to-day. She was widely known for her kindness and general charity to the poor and suffering, and her wealth was as freely bestowed as her labor. She was only about thirty years of age.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT—Explosion of a Shell.—A fatal accident occurred at Gettysburg on Friday, which should prove a warning against the handling of dangerous missiles. A gentleman named Williams, of Philadelphia, attempted to remove the contents from a bomb-shell, when it exploded, blowing off both his hands, and shattering one arm to the shoulder. A portion of the shell also struck a boy who was standing near, killing him almost instantly. Physicians amputated the shattered arm of Williams, but he died directly afterwards from the effects thereof. Williams had gone to Gettysburg to take home the body of his son, who had been killed in the battle at that place. Through curiosity he also lost his life, and his remains accompanied those of the son to their late home.—Harrisburg Tel.

NEW ORLEANS.—The population of New Orleans is being rapidly increased by the great influx from the North. Two steamers from New York recently arrived with 452 passengers. The New Orleans Times, of the 27th ult, says:

To those who, at a distance, may be crediting the lugubrious stories that have been told of the present misery and dullness of New Orleans, who cannot dispossess themselves of the idea that this great city has become a sort of remote desert, guarded over by Federal troops with nothing to break the monotony of existence, and where the slumbering fires of counter-revolution are perpetually striving to break out, held down by force, but as ardent and vital as ever, we have only to say they are laboring under a great mistake. Writers we have had in abundance—some local, others again correspondents of Northern journals, who have done much to create this impression, but what they have written has been far more the result of soured and distempered minds than faithful portraitures of the actually existing state of things.

Every vessel that comes from the North reaches us freighted with the wives and children of those who have come here to reside—very many of them permanently—among us. These families all bring their interests, influence, wealth, necessities, labor, and all that go to build up the prosperity of communities. They all, more or less, give an impetus to business, create demands, supply wants, circulate money, and give vigor and encouragement to every department of life.

From present appearances, everything denotes the brightest and most prosperous season that New Orleans has known since this unhappy war commenced. With the influx of visitors and residents, we see commerce simultaneously reviving, both on land and on the river, and only needing encouragement and the gradual removal of restrictions to resume its accustomed channels. Our grand theatre opens Thursday evening, under unusually tempting circumstances, and with as rich a company as perhaps ever before trod the boards of the Varieties. The city is blessed with a degree of health never before surpassed; and all we need is the cultivation of those feelings of good-will and brotherhood between all classes of the community, upon which our mutual happiness and prosperity must entirely depend.

A TOAD'S TOILET.—Audubon relates that he saw a toad undress himself. He commenced by pressing his elbows hard against his sides and rubbing downward. After a few smart rubs, his side began to burst open along his back. He kept on rubbing until he had worked all his skin into folds on his side and hips; then grasping one hind leg with both hands he hauled off one leg of his pants the same as anybody would; then stripped off the other leg in the same way. He then took his cast off cuticle forward between his fore legs, into his mouth, and swallowing as his head came down, he stripped off the skin underneath until it came to his fore legs, and grasping one of those with the opposite hand, by a slight motion of the head, and all the while swallowing, he drew it from the neck and swallowed the whole. That is economy—what is good for the back answers for the belly.

THE advance orders for Mr. Longfellow's "Tales of a Wayside Inn," to be published about the 25th of this month, are so large that the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, have determined to make the first edition to consist of fifteen thousand copies, probably the largest first edition ever printed in America of any volume of poetry. Large as the first issue is, it will probably all be exhausted during the week of publication. Thirty-five thousand copies of "Miles Standish" were sold in two months.—N. Y. Post.

POSITION OF THE REBEL ARMY.

Gen. Grant's Army on the Move.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Correspondence of the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23, 1863.

Burnside Able to Hold Out.

Intelligence has been officially received from the West to the same effect as advices published already, though its tone is more confident that Burnside will be fully able to hold out. It is quite probable that ere this Longstreet has had to look out for his rear, or run the risk of being entirely cut off. The withdrawal of the enemy from his position south of Knoxville, is indicative of a rebel change of base and consequent abandonment of the siege of that place.

Meade Has Not Advanced.

Washington papers are not very reliable today. The Chronicle and Republican declare that Meade advanced this morning, while the Star positively denies it, and cites proof that official circles know nothing of it. Simply in part of time the latter journal is probably correct. Meade has not advanced, though our cavalry are out on important missions.

Position of the Enemy.

Rebel deserters say that their army has anticipated our advance for several days. Observations from the signal station, show that the main body of the enemy lies between the Rapidan and Orange Court House, on the Railroad.

President's Message.

So far from the statement that the President has not commenced his message, being true, because of the absence of official reports, it is understood that he has completed that portion alluding to the status of States in rebellion, and favoring his friends, declares freedom within them, when they return to submission to the Government.

Guerillas Make a Dash.

On Saturday, about one hundred guerillas, made a dash upon three commissary wagons and two ambulances, near Sulphur Springs, Warrenton, where the Third Pennsylvania Cavalry had a company on picket duty. The rebels were lying hidden in the woods, and as the wagons passed them they rushed out upon them, detached the mules and made off. They were briskly pursued by the Third Pennsylvania and other cavalry, which by this time arrived in the vicinity, to a point near Thoroughfare Gap, but by means of signals and assistance afforded them by the inhabitants on the route, all but five managed to escape. A strong cavalry force is out in various directions and some of them will be gobbled up.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special Despatch to the Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23, 1863.

Meade's Army Under Marching Orders.

The Washington Chronicle, of this morning, says: General Meade's army was under marching orders at daylight this morning. The army leaves with ten days' cooked rations in haversacks and wagons. All the sick and disabled have been sent to the rear. A large number of them arrived in Washington last evening. It is presumed that the army will cross the river at Germania Ford.

Whereabouts of Lee's Army.

The main force of Lee's army is at Hanover Junction, about midway between Fredericksburg and Richmond.

Gen. Grant Also on the Move.

It is also stated upon good authority that Gen. Grant moved on Saturday.

The President's Remark to be Verified.

This looks as if the remark of the President, which I sent you this morning, was full of import.

H.

Thomas Taking Advantage of Longstreet's Movements---From the Army of the Potomac.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Star says: It is not known in official circles here that the Army of the Potomac has moved, nor is it expected it will move to-day, and intimates that General Thomas is about taking advantage of Longstreet's movements againt Burnside.

The Republican extra, of this morning, says: This morning, at the dawn of day, the grand Army of the Potomac broke camp near the north bank of the Rapidan, and with ten days' cooked rations in haversacks and wagons commenced an advance movement upon the enemy, under orders of Gen. Meade. It is supposed before noon to-day the whole of our army will be beyond the Rapidan. Gen. Lee must fight or run. If Lee has resisted the crossing of Gen. Meade's forces, there has been a battle before this. If Lee does not resist our crossing, it is evident he is not strong enough to fight outside of fortifications. It will soon be known exactly where his army is, for Gen. Meade will not stop until he finds it, if he has to go to the walls of Richmond.

Rebel Barbarity.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The following is from a letter dated Port Hudson, Nov. 3d, written by a Captain in the Seventh Regiment, and addressed to his father in this city: "We have just received information of a positive character that First Lieutenant George B. Coleman, of New York, who was captured about two months ago while out on a raid was hanged within twenty-four hours afterwards, together with some twenty privates, colored, who were taken with him. I hope some action will be taken on the subject and that soon. I know that the officers and soldiers of the Corps D'Afrique will take immediate action if they ever get into a fight. The men of the command will endeavor to protect themselves from such a fate, though the Government should neglect to do it."

Latest from Charleston.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Morris Island letter of the 19th says that nineteen shells were fired into Charleston on the 17th, falling into the most populous portions of the city. On Sunday night a very heavy rebel fire was continuously poured into our batteries from the rebel works. There is nothing new from the fleet.

All Guerrillas to be Immediately Shot.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—An Army of the Potomac letter says an order has been issued to immediately shoot all guerrillas as soon as captured.

McCunn Declared Elected Judge of the Superior Court.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The County Canvassers to-day decided that McCunn was elected Judge of the Superior Court.

Capture of a Rebel Steamer.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—The transport Delaware from Port Royal and Stono Bar on the 20th, reports the capture of the rebel steamer Banshee, from Nassau, with a cargo of great value.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Herald dispatch from the Army of the Potomac, dated Nov. 22d, states that the enemy, though not seen in large force, appear to be working diligently, and seem determined to give Meade a warm reception.

Missionary Returned.—Mrs. Frazier, wife of the late lamented missionary of the U. P. Church, Rev. James A. Frazier, at Damascus, arrived in Philadelphia last week. She is on her way to her friends in Monmouth, Ill.

In Town.—Colonel Hoffman, Commissary General of prisoners, arrived in this city on Saturday on Government business. On Monday he visited the Western Penitentiary, and we understand will visit other localities in the North, where rebel prisoners are confined.

Death of an Old Citizen.—Major John Sturgeon, an aged and respected citizen of North Fayette township, died at his residence, on Friday, the 13th inst. He had been suffering from rheumatism for a considerable length of time. He was esteemed and respected by all, and his loss will be deeply mourned.

Personal.—Rev. Dr. George Upfold, formerly the highly esteemed pastor of Trinity church, but now Bishop of the State of Indiana, is at present in the city. On Sabbath he preached morning and evening to his old parishioners, and his hearers were highly gratified at having once more the opportunity of listening to his well-remembered voice.

The Chronicle makes merry over the letter from Gettysburg, of Mr. SAWYER. Mr. SAWYER's letter has, at least, the merit of originality or "freshness." There is yet no "American Guide Book" furnished by some enterprising MURRAY. Who knows but the clever "gintleman" who seems to have unlimited control over the columns of our cotemporary may supply the want!

Killed.—We learn that an employee of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, named Burns, was killed by a train running over him near Campbell's Cut, Mercer county, a few days since. It appears that some days ago a couple of barrels of whisky dropped off a train, and the men at work near the place found out their contents, and opened one of them and had a general drunk. One of them falling asleep on the track was run over and killed.

Sentenced.—Some time in the early part of the October term of court, a number of coal diggers, employed in the mines up the Monongahela valley, were convicted of conspiracy, in combining to intimidate other miners who refused to "strike" with them. A motion was made and argued for a new trial, which was refused on Saturday, and the prisoners sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and the costs, amounting in the aggregate to $300 more.

Disappointed.—Col. J. B. Clark was to have lectured for the benefit of the Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society, of Indianapolis, last Tuesday night, but previous engagements in this State precluded the possibility of his fulfilling the engagement. Col. Clark, it seems, has quite a reputation in Indiana as the "fighting preacher," and the loyal people of the Hoosier capital are exceedingly anxious to hear him. Although the patriotic citizens were much disappointed at his not coming last week, they will probably have the pleasure of hearing him in January. The Indianapolis Journal says: It gives us great pleasure, to be able to state, by the authority of Captain Ekin, that the gallant Colonel will be with us in January, when he will deliver, for the benefit of soldiers families, a lecture on "The American War: Its Cause and its Results." He has the qualifications to give a full and eloquent description of the "cause of the war;" and his long, arduous and gallant connection with the army as Colonel of the 123d Pennsylvania Volunteers has given him a position from which he can correctly judge of its "results."

Bishop Potter's Address.

We yesterday gave an abstract from Bishop Potter's address to the clergymen and congregations of this diocese, relative ers directed by the eloquent and loyal Bishop. To-day we publish the thanksgiving prayer to the observance of Thanksgiving Day, to be offered up by the clergy and laity. The Bishop's address concludes as follows:

On the approaching day of Thanksgiving (26th November) the services will be those appointed in the Prayer Book, with the addition of such Occasional Prayers already put forth as may appear to be proper, and the following, after the special thanksgiving appointed in the ingathering of the fruits, &c.

THANKSGIVING.

O Almighty God, the Sovereign Commander of all the World, in whose hand is power and might, which none is able to withstand; we bless and magnify Thy great and glorious Name for the success hitherto vouchsafed to our efforts in defence of our Country, the whole glory whereof we ascribe to Thee, who art the only Giver of Victory. And, we beseech Thee, give us grace to improve these, and all other Thy great mercies, to Thy glory, the advancement of Thy Gospel, the honor of our Country and, as much as in us lieth, to the good of all mankind. Continue, we pray Thee, this Thy goodness to us; that we, being saved by Thy mighty power, may evermore live in Thy faith and fear, and to Thy glory, through Jesus Christ, our Lord and Saviour. Amen.

Also, after the Collect in the Communion Office, as appointed, add this:

O, Eternal God, the shield of our help, beneath whose sovereign defence Thy people dwell in safety; we bless and praise, we laud and magnify Thy glorious Name, for all Thy goodness to the people of this land, and especially for the success with which Thou art crowning our efforts to maintain the authority of Law, and to restore once more the blessings of union and peace. Inspire our souls with grateful love; lift up our voices in songs of thankfulness; make us humble and watchful in our prosperity, and prepare us for whatever reverses Thou shalt see that we need. Give wisdom and grace to our rulers. Pour constancy and courage and charity toward all men, into the hearts of our people. Draw towards us those who are now alienated from us in appearance or in heart, and hasten, O Lord of hosts, the blessed day, when as one people we may once more give thanks unto Thee in Thy Holy Church, and by our daily lives show forth Thy praise, through Jesus Christ, our most blessed Lord and Saviour. Amen.

Meeting of the Firemen's Association.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Firemen's Association met last night to hear the report of the Committee of Conference and Inspection.

The credentials of James H. Stewart, as member from the Vigilant Fire Company, in place of Robert Galway, was read and received.

The report of the Committee of Conference and Inspection was then called for. Mr. Hare stated that although a call was made in one of the city papers for the committee to meet, a portion of them had failed to appear, and consequently no report was ready. The President ordered that a fine be entered against the absentees. This called forth a protest in regard to some of them, on the ground that a sufficient excuse for their absence could be given.

Mr. Montgomery moved that the committee be requested to meet, and to report progress this (Monday) night two weeks. Carried.

Mr. White called attention to the fact that whenever there is a fire on this side the river, at which the Allegheny fire companies attend, the fire is scarcely subdued before they are applying to the citizens for money.

Mr. Irwin suggested that in order to remedy the matter the Fire Department refuse to give them a stream.

Mr. Tibby suggested the necessity of appointing Fire Wardens to guard property at a fire, and moved that each company be requested to furnish one member to act as Fire Warden.

Mr. Irwin suggested that the Mayor notify his police to attend all fires, and give what protection they could.

Mr. Sawyer remarked that nearly every member of his police were active members of the Fire Department; but said it was very difficult at a fire to tell who were carrying away with felonious intent, or who to save the property. He suggested the revival of the Fire Wardens.

Mr. Mackey moved a reconsideration of that portion of the proceedings of the former meeting in regard to copying the minutes of the association from the old book burned at the fire on Water street. Carried.

Mr. Mackay then moved that the minutes be copied at a cost not to exceed twenty dollars. Carried.

The motion of Mr. Tibby to elect a fire warden from each company was then put and carried.

Mr. Tibby then moved that the President (Mr. Irvin) be requested to call upon the Board of Underwriters, and ascertain whether or not they will allow the Fire Wardens any compensation. Carried.

The bill of Col. Pratt was then presented, and allowed.

On motion adjourned.

General Synod of the German Reformed Church.

MONDAY MORNING SESSION.—Synod commenced at 9 A. M., and was opened with singing and prayer by Rev. J. C. Bucher.

The committee on Overtures reported a letter from the Christian Commission of Maryland, soliciting aid in the way of collections to be lifted in the various churches on the approaching national Thanksgiving day.

On motion, the general object of the U. S. Christian Commission was cordially commended to the regard and liberality of the different congregations.

The recommitted report on Orphan Asylums was presented in a modified form, by Rev. G. B. Russell, which, after a brief discussion and slight amendment, was unanimously adopted. The report provides for the election of a board of five managers by the General Synod. This board will attend to the general interest of orphans and orphan homes, leaving it, however, to particular individuals or congregations to establish local institutions under the supervision of the General Board, to which all are to make annual reports of their operations in behalf of the poor and fatherless.

An additional resolution was adopted, calling the attention of the different classes to this Christian enterprise, with the view of enjoining upon the consistories, and especially upon the deacons, their sacred duty as regards the whole charitable object contemplated in the action of the General Synod.

The Committee appointed to inquire into the manner in which the German Reformed Church holds her property, reported progrsss through Rev. J. O. Miller.

The report was received and the Committee instructed to report in full to the annual Synods and the next General Synod. The committee consists of the Rev. G. O. Miller, Hon. David A. Krause, Hon. John Cessna and Hon. John Killinger, all members of the General Reformed Church.

The order for the day, being the selection of the time and place for the next meeting of the General Synod, was then taken up. Dayton was added to the list of nominations, and the First German Reformed Church of Dayton, O., was chosen as the place, and Wednesday before Advent Sunday, 1866, at seven o'clock in the evening, the time of meeting.

The committee on the general subject of Missions reported through Rev. Foulk, recommending the creation of a General Board of Foreign Missions, constituted of the Eastern Board with additional members from the Western Synod. The flourishing Reformed Mission in Syria, under Dr. B. Schneider, was commended to the Christian regards, prayers and liberality of our people.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Rev. D. Winters, temporarily occupying the chair. Synod opened with singing, and prayer by Rev. J. Dumond.

The Committee on Church Literature offered their report, which, after a protracted discussion, was re-committed to the committee.

The special order of the day, at half past three o'clock, the election of a Board of Directors for the general supervision of the "Orphans' Home," now was attended to. The following are the Directors: Rev. Dr. J. W. Nevin, Rev. G. B. Russell, and elders C. Santee, G. S. Griffith, and W. E. Schmertz.

A contribution for the Sexton was lifted for services during the sessions of Synod.

EVENING SESSION.

The Synod convened according to adjournment, and was opened with singing, and prayer by Elder H. Loenard, of Basil, Ohio.

The President, Dr. Nevin, stated that the order for this evening was the holding of a missionary meeting by the Synod.

Rev. Dr. Bomberger, of Philadelphia, addressed the meeting. He plead for more earnest, active interest, and zeal of a demoninational character as a church, for the promotion of Christianity. We are not, of course, to be bigoted; but we are bound to be true to ourselves, and to the interests of Christianity in proportion as we have come to realize its claims upon ourselves; not only are we to realize its claims in behalf of our own souls, but we are also under obligations to dispense the Word of Life to hundreds and thousands who are really the wandering sheep, sheep without shepherds, of the Reformed household. As a church we are guilty just to the extent that we neglect, or manifest indifference, towards these wandering perishing children of the Reformed ancestry. If we neglect them, other shepherds will invite them into their folds; which has already been done to a large extent.

Rev. G. W. Williard, of Dayton, Ohio, then addressed the Synod.

He said that we have done something in the missionary work. Grace Church is the fruit of missionary efforts. But while here and there, a field has been cultivated, there are cries for help even now, coming into our ears from the east and from the west, from the north and from the south. St. Louis cries for aid, and Dubuque, Iowa City, Chicago, and fifty other places, take up the echo, and increase its volume to a painful extent. In the last year much has been done to carry forward the benevolent and literary operations of the Church, but we are still not done casting into the treasury of the Lord.

Rev. P. C. Prugh, of Xenia, Ohio, delivered some remarks. He gave a gloomy view of our missionary operations, and represented that few are qualified to go forth in God's Vineyard to labor in this capacity. He urged liberality as a surity of Divine favor and prosperity.

Rev. J. H. Kline made some remarks in the German language. He contended that we need not only money to carry forward the Missionary operations of the Church, but we also need the love of CHRIST. When the love of CHRIST is active, there also will the fruits of active, earnest piety be found; there will the Church prosper and increase.

At the close of this speech, the report on the subject of Missions was adopted as a whole.

On motion, the Synod adjourned to meet at the usual hour, and that it then spend the first half hour in devotional exercises.

The Synod closed by singing, prayer, and the apostolic benediction by the President.

Criminal Court Proceedings.

All the cases set down for trial in the Criminal Court, were disposed of yesterday. District Attorney, Kirkpatrick, has labored arduously during the present term, and through his untiring exertions, he has endeavored to wind up the business with expedition and dispatch. This morning, all motions for new trials will be brought up for argument. The following business was disposed of yesterday:—

Shepley R. Holmes, a lad residing in Temperanceville, was acquitted of a charge of aggravated assault and battery.

Edward D. Watson, plead guilty to selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

Rosanna Bolton, plead guilty to selling liquor without license. Not sentenced.

John Jackson was acquitted of a charge of larceny.

John Fox plead guilty to selling liquor without license, and was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

Christina Amlaw, was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery, and the prosecutrix, Anna Heizenground, directed to pay the costs.

Jeremiah Driscoll, charged with larceny, was acquitted.

John McClain was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery, and the prosecutor, Charles B. Taylor, directed to pay the costs.

Sarah Leslie, sr., was indicted for keeping a disorderly on Second street. The defendant was not present in court, but was represented by counsel. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

John Goodman was convicted of assault and battery. The defendant is now absent in Canada, but was represented in Court by counsel.

John Riley was placed on trial, charged with assault and battery on oath of his wife, Elizabeth. Verdict, not guilty, and Elizabeth Riley to pay costs.

Charles Foster, charged with larceny, was found not guilty. The accused is now in the army.

James Walls was acquitted of an aggravated assault and battery, and the prosecutor, Samuel Phillips, directed to pay the costs.

Mary Ann Hudson, charged with larceny, was acquitted.

On Saturday next, those persons now in jail awaiting sentence, will be disposed of as their crimes may merit.

Pittsburgh's Quota.

Our people appear to be in a lethargic state concerning the quota of the city, as no measures have been taken to avoid a draft, If a draft is to be avoided it should be remembered that but little over a month remains in which to provide the requisite number of men by voluntary enlistments. Recruiting seems to be progressing very slowly. If this war is to be ended soon it is necessary that the rebels should be most thoroughly thrashed. To do this successfully the army must be augmented. It is always considered best to raise an army by volunteering, and our citizens should use every exertion to accomplish that end. Another important matter which should be borne in mind is that if the quota of the city is filled by volunteering previous to the 5th of January, all past deficiences will be wiped out. If it is found requisite to resort to draft, then any deficiencies which may have occurred in previous calls will be added to the number to be drawn. The bounties offered by the Government are exceedingly liberal, and, in connection with the patriotism of the people, should be sufficient to raise the troops required.

Convicted of Riot.—It will be remembered that while the Pittsburgh delegation were en route for the Uniontown Union Convention, on Monday, Oct. 5, some persons at Guffey's tavern, Guffey's Station, flung out a Woodward flag, at which some rather indiscreet Union men took umbrage. Capt. John H. Stewart, who was chief marshal of the delegation, observing that some of the men were rather excited, used every effort in his power to prevent any riotous demonstration, and actually did prevent any injury to Mr. Guffey's property. However, suits were instituted against Capt. John H. Stewart, W. H. Campbell, Frank Kelly, and others, charging them with riot, and the case came up for trial last week before Judge Buffington, at Greensburg. The case was concluded on Saturday last, and resulted in the jury convicting Messrs. Stewart and Campbell and acquitting all the other defendants. Capt. Stewart was not present at the trial, it having been arranged that the case would not be called for trial until this week.

We are authorized to state that Jacob Weaver, Jr., declines being a candidate for Mayor of Allegheny City.

Public Amusements.

THE OLD FOLKS had a crowded and fashionable audience at Masonic Hall last night, and their admirable singing was rapturously applauded. The singing of Mrs. Emma Nichols, the charming principal songstress of the company, was truly delightful, and the entertainment throughout gave unbounded satisfaction. This afternoon the Old Folks will give a matinee for the accommodation of families, when a programme of the choicest songs of the company will be presented. They will also appear in the evening, when Mrs. Nichols will sing the admired song, "Within a mile of Edinboro' Town," which she made so popular in this city on the occasion of her previous visits. "Cousin Reuben" will also participate, and "Granny Slocum" will likewise "jine in the singin'." Go early if you would have a good seat.

THEATRE.—M'lle. Vestvali appeared at the theatre last night in the character of "Captain Henri d'Lagadare," in the new sensation play of the "Duke's Motto." The house, as usual since the commencement of her engagement, was crowded, and the play went off very well. Vestvali, to our mind, did not appear to as good advantage in the new character as she did in that of "Gamea." However, the novelty of her appearance in a male character seemed to please the audience, and her performance was warmly applauded. The "Duke's Motto" will be performed again to-night, with Vestvali in the principal character.

BENEFIT BALL.—On Wednesday evening the young men of Allegheny city will give a ball at the California Hall, Federal street, for the benefit of a soldier, member of the Sixty-second Regiment, who was wounded at Fredericksburg. Those desiring to aid a very worthy young man, as well as to enjoy a pleasant hour or two, should make it convenient to attend.

Committed for Larceny.—Olmstead Skinner, a colored man, was yesterday arrested and taken before Alderman Donaldson, charged with the larceny of an overcoat valued at $25, the property of Dr. Dake. The coat was taken on the 28th day of August last. The evidence was sufficient to justify his committal to jail to await his trial.

Grape Show.—Mr. Knox will exhibit at his Horticultural Rooms, No. 29 Fifth street, on Tuesday and during the week, a rare collection of Grapes including Concord, Delaware, Diana, Herbemont, Elsingburg, Union Village, Tokalon, Anna, &c. Persons interested in the culture of this delicious fruit would do well to call and examine these fine specimens.

Opening.—A splendid stock of furs, sacques, cloaks, circulars, French merinoes, coburg, repps, poplin, de lains, muslin, Irish linen, and blankets, at H. J. Lynch's, No. 96 Market street, between Fifth and Diamond.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

Vocal Music.—H. D. Brecht, teacher of Singing and Cultivation of the Voice, 126 Smithfield street.

Counterfeit 5s on the Adams Bank, North Adams, Mass., were extensively shoved in our sister city, Allegheny, after banking hours, on last Saturday, and to some extent circulated yesterday in this city. The engraving is well done, and the bills are quite deceptive. The vignette represents females, blacksmith, anvil; cars on right end, and an Indian on left end.

"In what shall we invest?" This is a question propounded by one of our exchanges, and very pertinently answered. Though money has been temporarily scarce, capital continues abundant; and the recent tumble in the stock market has brought capitalists to a realizing sense of the unreliable character of many of the securities dealt in. It is greatly to the credit of the Government that its loans, of all the securities daily dealt in on the market, have maintained their integrity of price better than almost anything else. Its five-twenty years six per cent. loan, the interest on which is promptly paid in gold, has been subscribed to, all through the pressure in the money market, at an average of more than two millions per day. And, what is not the least gratifying fact in connection with the daily large subscriptions to this popular loan, scarcely any of it is sent to the market for sale. It is taken for investment, and is held with unfaltering confidence in its reliability. And why should it not be? It is seen that the Government now, after two years of the most gigantic war that the world has ever known, experiences no difficulty in commanding the necessary means to prosecute it, or in paying regularly the interest in gold as it falls due. If this can be done while the war is being waged, who can anticipate any difficulty in readily accomplishing it when the war shall be ended? What better investment, then, for capital, than the 5-20 Government Loan? But if any doubt, let him refer to the statistics furnished by the census tables of the various nations of the world. The facts which they present will prove the most satisfactory mode of dispelling the numberless gloomy apprehensions which are being continually conjured up by those who are disposed to exaggerate the extent of the calamity occasioned by our rebellion. A reference to the state of most of the prosperous nations of the old world clearly disproves such a position, and shows that the highest conditions of national advancement have not been materially affected by the extended wars in which those nations have been immemorially engaged, and that a heavy national indebtedness has not proved an unmitigated evil. For instance, Great Britain, France and the Netherlands will undoubtedly be conceded to represent the highest prosperity that has been attained by any of the European nations. And yet no nations have been called upon to endure fiercer or more prolonged wars, domestic and foreign, than they. The effect has been, unquestionably, to incur an enormous national indebtedness; but neither their wars nor their indebtedness have had the effect to destroy their elasticity, nor to check the progress of their general prosperity. The result would have been different, probably, if these nations had been falling into decay, instead of being, as they really were, in a state of development; and in this respect their case resembles our own, with enormous advantages in our favor. These nations, while undergoing the trials of war, were oppressed by the evils of an immense exodus of their people, caused by the density of their population, the impossibility to provide occupation for them, the low price of labor, and the scarcity of territory. Compared with our own country, they possessed slight room for future development; they were settled in every part, and no vast territory lay invitingly open to encourage enterprise and settlement. Their great problem has ever been what to do with their surplus population, which in its turn has sought new fields for adventure and self-support in countries like our own, where an illimitable territory waits to be developed, and where incalculable resources invite industry and energy. The encouragement to be derived from these facts and comparisons of circumstances is very great, and to the mind of any dispassionate reasoner is conclusive that the course of this great country is onward and upward, and that its credit will live unimpaired to the end.

—Some of the journals of the country arrive at the conclusion that cotton is to be dear as silk, for the coming few years. Silk and flax are today no dearer, as raw products, than raw cotton. Wool, it is held, will largely take the place of cotton, but the rapid advance of wool, up to the present period, has not so much grown out of that fact as out of the consumption of it for goods always produced from that material. When we find that woolen goods embrace sheetings, shirtings, summer hose, undershirts, &c., cotton will fall, but not till then. The only thing that can check the value of cotton is the increase of material to take its place.

—The pork season will be unusually short this year in Indiana, for, owing to the high price of corn, farmers are taking their hogs to market as rapidly as possible, and for this reason the amount of lard obtained will be much less per head than in past seasons. The number of hogs in the State is supposed to be at least one-third less than last year.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
Tuesday, November 24.

Business was only moderately active yesterday; buyers in most cases were shy, taking hold very sparingly. The weather was very pleasant—our rivers, after reaching the height of ten feet five inches, were falling last evening, with nine feet eight inches in the channel. The amount of coal that will be enabled to get out on the present water will not exceed half a million of bushels. This may appear small; it must, however, be borne in mind that the present rise is altogether from the Monongahela, whilst the Allegheny has done nothing to support it. Heavy draft coal boats will not venture out under the present state of affairs. We have no reports of water from the Allegheny, and presume there is none to come. On the wharf we noticed a good deal of activity. The Emma Graham, that arrived from Zanesville, brought up a heavy cargo of produce. The packet Reserve, loading for Louisville, was receiving a large cargo. Freights were plenty. Among the sales that came under our notice were as follows:

APPLES.—The receipts were large, with a regular trade demand; prices however were unchanged. We note sales of 320 bbls at $2 40@2 75 ₩ bbl, the latter figures for a prime article.

BUTTER—The market was firm with a good demand. All parcels that come in find purchasers at full rates. Sales of 700 lbs of fresh Roll at 25c ₩ lb, and 400 lbs Packed at 17c.

HAY.—Prices continue to rule very high. We note sales of 10 loads at the scales at $36@40 ₩ ton. Rather steep.

CHEESE—The market was steady and firm; prices were well maintained. Sales 50 boxes W. R. at 13@13½c; 25 do Cream at 14c, and 29 do Hamburg at 14½. Stocks only moderate.

FLOUR—The receipts are beginning to increase, but not in sufficient quantities to effect prices. The demand at present is principally for lots to meet the wants of the local trade. The stock in this market is not large. The current rates from store were:

Extra—$5 75@6 10 ₩ bbl.

Extra Family—$6 85@7 00. Sales "Star of the West" mills at $7 25. Country lots sold various prices, according to quality. The demand for export has fallen off.

EGGS—The receipts are on the increase. We note sales fresh at 22@23c per doz. Stock very limited.

FEED—The market continues very firm; holders have advanced the rates. Shorts are held at $1.50; Middlings $2 per cwt. The supply in first hands is quite limited.

GRAIN—The market remains firm, and, from present appearances, will remain so, as the demand far exceeds the supply. The following are the latest quotations, at which figures small lots were changing hands.

Barley inquired for at, Spring $1.35@1.37; Fall 1.50@1.52.

Oats were in moderate demand, and may be quoted at 75c from first hands. The stock on hand is not large.

Rye—There is none in market to operate on; prices nominal.

Corn steady and in firm demand, with sales principally at depot at 1.10@1.12½ per bushel.

Wheat commands good prices from wagon; Red was disposed of at 1.30@1.33; White at 1.38@1.40. The sales were not large.

WHISKEY—The market was very firm, with regular sales of City Rectified at 65c per gallon.

GROCERIES—The market was very firm, but as prices are unchanged, we omit them.

WHISKY less active and scarcely so firm—52@55c.

WHEAT—slightly favors buyers, only in moderate demand. New Wheat, $1,25@$1,35; old do, $1,43@$1,46 for Milwaukie Club, the latter choice in the store; $1,52@$1,58 for winter Red Western.

RYE—Scarce, and firm at $1,30@$1,35.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF STEAMBOATS.

ARRIVED.

St. Patrick	Mason	Cincinnati.

DEPARTED.

Gallatin	Clarke	Brownsville.
Franklin	Bennett	Brownsville.
Jas. Reese	Peebles	Elizabeth.

THE Cincinnati mail failed to arrive last night, hence we are without our usual river and commercial reports from that point.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight there were nine feet eight inches water, and falling. The present rise was from the Monongahela. The weather during the day was pleasant.

THE fine side-wheel steamer Adelaide, leaves to-day for Cincinnati, Louisville and Nashville. This boat has fine accommodations and has been fitted up in a superior manner. Our old friend, W. P. McCormick, will be found in the office.

THE new packet RESERVE, being unavoidably detained, will leave to-day without fail for Louisville. Capt. Herron will be found on deck, and W. M. List, Esq., will do the honors in the office.

THE favorite passenger steamer "Emma Graham," Capt. Ayres, leaves to-day for Zanesville, and intermediate points. This boat is famed for good living, attentive officers, and good fare generally. Mr. Hoge, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

ALL ABOUT COAL.—The present rise of water will enable our coal dealers to send only a small amount of coal to the lower market. In fact, it would be imprudent to venture out with any but light draught boats, and most of them were sent out on the previous rise. From diligent enquiry we have ascertained that the amount that will get out on the present water will not exceed six hundred thousand bushels, principally for the Cincinnati market.

THE new and splendid passenger steamer Reserve, Captain Herron, leaves this day for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat comes to us well recommended. Capt. Herron is an old Pittsburgher, and has hosts of friends, who will be pleased to see him enter his old trade again. The first clerk is an esteemed friend, Capt. W. M. List, who won golden opinions for himself during the time he presided at the desk of the Sallie List, when she run in the Portsmouth trade.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

Gen. Meade's Army.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—An Army of the Rapidan dispatch of the 21st., states the Army of the Rapidan as not advancing. The rain has caused some mud, but the roads will soon be dry.

A Washington special to the Herald states that little apprehension is felt for the safety of Burnside. The junction of Sherman with Thomas enables Grant to reinforce Burnside.

A Knoxville letter to the Herald, of the 7th, mentions the fight between the Union and rebel North Carolinians, on the French Broad river, in which the former whipped the latter. During the fight, many of the rebel troops skedaddled to the Union ranks and poured in their fire into their former comrades.

The Herald has a letter, dated Annapolis, Nov. 19th, containing a list of three hundred and fifty of the paroled Unionists who have arrived there from Richmond. Six died on the passage. These three hundred and fifty were the best that could be picked out to send. They all confirm the previous accounts of horrible hardships and sufferings.

A letter to the Times, dated Memphis, Nov. 10th, states that the Memphis and Charleston Railroad is being abandoned by our forces, as the expense of grading it is too great. Boats arriving from below report repeated attacks by guerrillas on the river.

Gov. Ramsey, of Minnesota, has brought to Washington a treaty with the Indians on the border of the Red river, by which we acquire 11,000 acres of land. Obstructions to travelers from St. Paul are removed.

The Herald's Army of the Potomac dispatch states that our cavalry occupy Culpepper, but the infantry had not yet advanced to that point.

It was rumored in camp that Lee had fallen back from the Rapidan.

Depredations in the rear of our forces prove to be mostly by deserters from our own army.

From Memphis.

CAIRO, Nov. 22.—Memphis dates to the 19th say that recent military orders created very great excitement there. Every person whose actions are suspicious is immediately conscripted and sent to camp. No passes to leave the city are granted to any but those well known and entirely above suspicion.

A new order has been issued for the purpose of carrying into effect the previous order, to the following purport: All able-bodied men who do not enroll their names in some military company within ten days from date of the order will be impressed into the United States service.

Colonels Bell and Faulkner are near Jackson, Tennessee, with two or three thousand rebels.

A rebel mail-carrier, with about one thousand letters, was recently captured near Somerville, Tennessee.

A train of ten wagons, loaded with cavalry clothing, en route from Little Rock to Benton, was captured by sixty guerrillas. The wagons were burned and the clothing carried off.

Capt. Bradden, of gunboat Number Nine, was accidentally shot, on the 14th, near Skepwith's Landing.

A Fight with Guerrillas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Yesterday afternoon about ninety of Moseby's men approached within three miles of Bealton, with the intention of making a raid upon the Railroad. Being dressed in federal uniforms, the detachment of Pa. cavalry who were in the immediate neighborhood at the time, mistook them for friends, but soon discovered their error, when the rebels fired a volley into them by which several were wounded. The rebels were instantly pursued and driven into Snicker's Gap. Six of the gang were captured. At the latest accounts our cavalry had not returned.

John Minor Botts, who is now at his residence at Auburn, Culpepper county, previous to our recent advance over the Rappahannock, sent a letter to the Richmond Examiner on the subject of his arrest and treatment. It is full of interest, and a copy has been obtained for publication.

Impressions in regard to the enemy's strength on the Rapidan are various. Some maintain that Lee's entire force does not exceed 35,000; others place it as high as 75,000.

From Fortress Monroe.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Gentlemen who arrived here from Fortress Monroe state that they heard there that the correspondence of the respective agents for exchange of prisoners had generated into personalities and the loss of mutual confidence. Their usefulness is thereby impaired, and hence the opinion is strongly expressed that if there could be a change of agents an exchange of nearly all, if not all, the prisoners might be effected.

The arrangements for all branches of the public service, for the fiscal year ending with the last of June, were $903,000,000, of which amount $60,000,000 was for the army and $66,000,000 for the navy. A sufficiency of money has been placed in the hands of all the paymasters to pay our armies up to the present month.

Another Secession Plot.

BURLINGTON, VT., November 22.—Considerable excitement was caused yesterday at Rouse's Point and St. Albans, by the report that a body of secessionists in Montreal had planned to seize Fort Montgomery, destroy the drawbridge at Rouse's Point, and plunder Plattsburg and Burlington. Information of such a plot reached Governor Smith and Collector Clapp, of this port, on Friday. They communicated with the officer in charge of Fort Montgomery, who soon had its guns ready to give the renegades a warm reception. This scheme was probably linked with the Johnson's Island project.

Interesting from New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The 13th Army Corps, lately operating in the Teche country, embarked to-day at Brashear City for some unknown point in Texas, by way of Berwick's Bay.

The steamer Circassian arrived here today and reports the disappearance of the yellow fever from the blockading fleet off Mobile.

Trade with St. Louis on private account is rapidly increasing.

A rumor is prevalent to-day among secession sympathizers of a rebel defeat in Western Louisiana.

Sentenced to the Penitentiary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Jno. K. Fletcher, of Philadelphia, has been sentenced by Court Martial to five years' imprisonment in the Albany penitentiary, for fraud in furnishing supplies to the army. The sentence has been approved by the President.

COMMERCIAL.

MEMPHIS OIL MARKET.—We have advices to November 18th—Refined Petroleum and Kerosene active from $1 12½ to $1 25; the latter for Kerosene. The stock here is very light, and the demand on the increase.

NEW ORLEANS OIL MARKET.—We have advices to Nov. 11th. Refined Petroleum remains unchanged; the supplies continue light, and with a moderatively active demand; sales of Kerosene in cases at $1 10, and Petroleum at $1 05.

PHILADELPHIA COTTON MARKET.—The market has been firm but very quiet during the entire week, with a limited inquiry from manufacturers, who buy only to supply their immediate wants, and the sales reach about 350 bales, taken in small lots, at from 85 to 88c for middling and good middling quality, cash, closing quiet at 85@86c for middlings.

PHILADELPHIA WOOL MARKET.—Wool is coming in more freely and the market is less active. Holders, however, are not disposed to make concessions, and demand full prices. Sales reach about 280,000 lbs., in lots, at from 80 to 86c for common to fine fleece, the latter for choice clips and tub, mostly at 80@83c, including some low grade western, unwashed, at 57c. Pulled Wools are quiet, but some sales of foreign are reported on terms kept private.

NEW YORK OIL MARKET.—We have advices to November 21st, 3 o'clock P. M.—To-day the market is less active, with sales of Crude at 24½@26 cents, mostly at 25c.—Refined, in bond, 40@41c for pale straw, and 42@42½c for white. Refined, free, selling as wanted at from 47½@51c, as to quality and quantity.

Exports from New York; for the week ending November 20, 333,167 galls.

BALTIMORE OIL MARKET.—We have advices to November 21st, 2 o'clock, P. M. Market heavy and unsettled; to-day's quotations quite nominal. Crude 24 to 25 cts. Refined, in bond, dull at 42½@44 cents; no sales. Refined, free, at from 50a55c, as to quality and quantity; business more of a retail character. Exports from Baltimore for the week ending November 19—to Barbadoes, 1,500 gallons.

BOSTON OIL MARKET.—We have advices to November 21st, 2 p. m.—The unsettled state of the market throughout this week, together with many absurd rumors, has made buyers very shy and quite unwilling to operate, even at the unusual low rates now prevailing. Crude has been offered at from 27 to 28c. Refined, in bond, 42½ to 44c. Refined, free, 52½ to 54c—Benzine nominal at 20 to 22½c. The exports from Boston, for the week ending November 19, were as follows:

To British Provinces	5,636 gallons
To Buenos Ayers	5,000 "
To Cork	26,390 "
Total	37,026 gallons

Philadelphia Oil Market.

The market throughout the past week was dull, and prices declining. Crude, we notice sales of 2,000 barrels at 23 cents; 1,500 barrels at 22 cents, and a small lot of 200 barrels at 24 cents. In Refined, in bond, but little doing; among the few sales reported, we have 100 barrels, pale straw, at 37½ cents; 200 barrels at 37 cents; 100 barrels, prime white, at 38 cents, and 50 barrels do. at 39 cents. Refined, free, to the trade as wanted, and mostly in small lots, at from 47½ to 50 cents. In Benzine, we have to report sales of 100 barrels at 17½ cents, and 25 barrels at 20 cents for prime double refined. Some few barrels of Residium changed hands at $4 75 to $5 00. Exports from Philadelphia for the week ending November 21: To Mayaguez, 500 gallans; to P. R. Ponce, 250 gallons.

New Orleans Market.—Nov. 14.

Cotton—There was a fair inquiry to-day, but holders were indisposed to make any abatement from their stringent pretensions, and as far as reported the sales were confined to 93 bales, all for legal tender and ½c duty paid, embracing 36 at auction, of which 1 bale pickings sold at 19½c, 14 bales repacked, wet and dry, at 43¼c, 7 samples, part wet and dry, at 47½c, 4 samples at 60c, 2 low middling at 60½c, two strictly good ordinary at 61¼c, 1 mixed at the same, 1 middling at 67¼c and 4 do at 67½; and 57 bales at private sale, including 27 bales strictly middling and 30 good ordinary to low middling, prices not reported. Yesterday, not before reported, a list of 623 bales classing barely middling, for which 68c had been refused, was sold on private terms. This makes an aggregate reported since the arrival of the Morning Star of 1,335 bales, but there may have been other transactions none of the particulars of which have transpired.

Sugar—Yesterday, not previously reported, 450 hhds sold in several lots at 11¾c for fully fair old crop, 12½c for strictly prime, and 12¾c for very choice old crop. To-day's sales are confined to 200 hhds at previous prices. Fair to fully fair old crop at 11¼@11¾c, strictly prime to very choice 12¼@12½, and new centrifugal 11½c per lb. The movement is restricted by the high rates of freight to the North and West, and by the difficulty of negotiating domestic exchange.

Molasses—There was an active demand to-day, mostly for the North, and the sales embraced about 700 bbls and a small lot of half bbls; all the receipts in first hands, at 35c for poor, 40c for good old crop, and 54@55c and 56c for new crop.

The American Fur Trade.

Respecting the value of this important traffic, the St. Paul (Minn.) Press says:

"On looking at the books of our dealers, we find that 3,500 bison or buffaloes have fallen victims to the arrow or the bullet on our northwestern prairies, to supply civilized man with robes to keep him warm in the winter. These robes will always be a standing article for such purposes. They cost about $7, undressed. An equal number of wolves—which fact one hears with pleasure—have also bitten the dust, to supply our fair countrywomen with elegant sleigh robes, worth $2 each, to keep out the biting air while gliding over the snows of the northern winters. The bruin family bewail the loss of 950 ursine members. These skins, costing from $10 to $20, are also used for sleigh covers and for military purposes, as are 1,050 of the red fox, worth about $1 50 each. The mink, now mercilessly pursued, since his pelt is worth from $3 50 to $5, contributes 28,000 skins toward those elegant mantles and cloaks that every lady covets. The muskrat species are prolific, and have given us fully 250,000 skins, worth 80 to 85 cents each. Of the more rare and costly furs 2258 otters have been captured from their lacustrine retreats to do duty in the shape of gloves, &c., at $6 to $7 per pelt, and 540 "fishers" have been trapped, yielding the fortunate hunter $8 to $10 a piece. The marten family, one much prized, lost 1600 members, enriching the trapper at the rate of $5 to $10 each. Of the cross fox, a very scarce and rare animal, only 76 have been caught. Good specimens bring $20.

During the winter a trapper brought in, among a lot of poultries, two skins which, as nothing had ever been seen here like them before, were called the blue fox. They seem to be a hybrid between the cross fox and the silver fox. No one knew their value, and they were sold at $2 each. The skins brought $25 dollars each in New York city."

DIPHTHERIA.—We have received a recipe for the cure of diphtheria, from a physician who says that of 1,000 cases in which it has been used not a single patient has been lost. The treatment consists in thoroughly swabbing the back of the mouth and throat with a wash made thus:—Table salt, 2 drachms; black pepper, golden seal, nitrate of potash, alum, 1 drachm each. Mix and pulverize, put into a tea-cup which half fill with boiling water, stir well, and then fill up with good vinegar. Use every half hour, one, two and four hours, as recovery progresses. The patient may swallow a little each time. Apply 1 oz. each of spirits turpentine, sweet oil, and aqua ammonia mixed, every four hours to the whole of the throat and to the breast bone, keeping flannel to the part.—N. Y. Tribune.

REBEL LACKS.—The rebels lack meat, they lack bread, they lack clothes, they lack shoes, they lack whisky, they lack money, they lack credit, they lack recognition, they lack a good cause, and they lack a thousand other things. They may well exclaim alack!—Prentice.

GRAPE VINES.—We have over ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND superior Vines, of all the leading kinds, for sale. Parties wishing to purchase would do well to visit our grounds and examine our vines and fruit. We can still show the fruit of over a dozen varieties; and our stock of vines, in point of quantity and quality, is unsurpassed any where. Circulars giving descriptions of the different varieties, and prices, will be sent by mail to all applicants, or can be had at No. 29 Fifth street.

WORTHLESS and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the press by fabricated letters that the proprietors of

HOSTETTER'S BITTTERS

Rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.

Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.

It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipopes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED and RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.

The immense increase in the sale of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things," only "HOLDS FAST to that which is GOOD." Spurious preparations, like poisonous fungi, are continually springing up, but their character is soon discovered, and they are "flung like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is "not for a day, but for all time."

Every dose administered of a useless or deleterious nostrum helps to disabuse the public mind of the impressions it may have received from the flourish of trumpets with which the deceptious article was announced; while, on the contrary, every bottle sold of a purely valuable medicine secures the permanent custom of the purchaser, and makes him an ADVERTISER OF ITS MERITS among his friends. It is thus that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have obtained their unparalled popularity. The Press, indeed, has made the GREAT STOMACHIC widely known, but it is the uniformly successful results of PERSONAL EXPERIMENT that have rendered it a HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE through out the length and breadth of the land, and the main reliance of the TRAVELER, the VOYAGER, the MINER and the PIONEER.

During the Summer months, a pure, wholesome tonic, in which are also incorporated the properties of an anti-bilious and mild aperient agent, is especially needed. Such a preparation is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the surest preventative and cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, and nervous debility, ever placed within the reach of the community.

Against the depressing and sickening tendency of heat and miasma, it is a potent safeguard, and upon persons of feeble constitution and uncertain health, its renovating effects are most extraordinary.

READ REV W. B. LEE'S LETTER,
BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 28, 1863.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—I have used your Bitters during the last six weeks and feel it due to you and the public to express my hearty approval of their effect upon me. I never wrote a puff for any one, and I abhor everything that savors of quackery. But your Bitters are entirely removed from the level of the mere nostrums of the day, being parent alike to all, and exactly what they profess to be. They are not advertised to cure everything, but they are recommended to assist nature in the alleviation and the ultimate healing of the most common infirmities of the body, and this they will accomplish I had been unwell for two months, as is usual with me during the Spring. I was bilious, and suffering from indigestion and a general disease of the mucous membraue, and though compelled to keep at work in the discharge of my professional duties, was very weak, of a yellow complexion, had no appetite and was much of the time confined to my bed. When I had been taking your bitters a week my vigor returned, the sallow complexion was all gone, I relished my food, and now I enjoy the duties of mental application, which so recently were so very irksome and burdensome to me, When I used your bitters I felt a change every day. These are facts. All inference must be made by each individual for himself.

Yours respectfully,
W. B. LEE,
Pastor of Green avenue Presbyterian Church.

READ E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH'S LETTER
PROSPECT COTTAGE,
GEORGETOWN, D. C., April 2, 1863.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to those of others in favor of your excellent preparation. Several years of residence on the banks of a Southern river, and of close application to literary work, had so thoroughly exhausted my nervous system and undermined my health, that I had become a martyr to dyspepsia, and nervous headaches recurring at short intervals, and defying all known remedies in the Materia Medica, I had come to the conclusion that nothing but a total change of residence and pursuits would restore my health, when a friend recommended Hostetter's Bitters. I procured a bottle as an experiment. It required but one bottle to convince me that I had found at last the right combination of remedies. The relief afforded me has been complete. It is now some years since I first tried Hostetter's bitters, and it is but just to say that I have found the preparation all that it claims to be. It is a standard family cordial with us; and even as a stimulant we like it better than anything else; but we use it in all nervous, bilious and dyspeptic cases from fever down to toothache. If what I have now said will lead any dyspeptic or nervous invalid to a sure remedy, I shall have done some good.

I remain, gentlemen, respectfully yours,
E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

READ JOHN W. BRONOUGH'S LETTER.
NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Bureau of Yards and Docks, Dec. 30, 1862.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Gentlemen: About four years since, my attention was called to your celebrated Stomach Bitters, I being at the time a perfect martyr to dyspepsia in all of its terrific forms; indeed, I had not known for six years an uninterrupted night's sleep. I commenced the use of your Bitters, taking them according to your directions, except that the dose was reduced to one-half, and found myself much, very much benefitted by the first bottle; the second relieved me entirely; but I have ever since taken a dose in the morning, immediately on rising, finding it act as a tonic and appetizer of the most agreeable character. There is a peculiarity in the effect of your Bitters on me, which it may be well to state. If from any cause, I shall be suffering never so acutely with the headache, a dose of your Bitters relieves me in fifteen minutes. In conclusion, I say with all sincerity and truth, I would not be returned to the state of health in which your Bitters found me, and from which they have unquestionably relieved me, for all the money in the world.

I am, with great respect, your obd't servant,
JOHN W. BRONOUGH, Chief Clerk.

READ SAMUEL BYER'S LETTER.
NEW CONVALESCENT CAMP,
Near Alexander, Va., May 21, 1863.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Dear Sirs: Will you do me the favor to forward, by express, one-half dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with bill, for which I will remit you on receipt of the same, as I am unable to procure your medicine here; and if I had a quantity, it could be sold readily, as it is known to be the best preparation in use for diseases having their origin with a diseased stomach. I have used and sold hundreds of preparations, but your Bitters are superior to anything of the kind I am cognizant with. Indeed, no soldier should be without it, should he be ever so robust and healthy; for it is not only a Restorative, but a Preventative, for almost all diseases a soldier is subject to. I have been afflicted with chronic indigestion, and no medicine has ever afforded me the relief yours has; and I trust you will lose no time in sending the Bitters ordered.

Yours respectfully,
SAMUEL BYERS, Hospt.

RENSSELAERVILLE, July 7, 1861.

Messrs. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen:—Please send me some of your Bitters at your earliest convenience, as I have at present an extensive sale for them. I have no medicine of which I sell as much as your Bitters. I have kept them for two years last past. They have now begun to sell. They have performed some remarkable cures in Dyspepsia which have been of long standing, and from which they have acquired a reputation won by no other medicine in our market. I can send you certificates surpassing anything you ever published, if of any value to you, being anxious such a medicine should be introduced in every place. If persons were as well acquainted with it as I am, they would not be without it.

Respectfully yours,
W. P. SWEET, Druggist,
